FIRST TIME WINNERS Trace Morgan and Braylee Lesyk won the Grade 3 Award of Excellence at the Elk Point Elementary School Science Fair with their experiment on Lava Lamps.

Young scientists show skills at EPE

VICKI BROOKER
Elk Point Review

Elk Point Elementary School hosted their annual Book Fair, Science Fair and Art Show on March 6, with a tremendous variety of art lining three sides of the gymnasium where 20 students from Grades 3 to 5 proudly displayed their scientific discoveries and knowledge in 15 outstanding projects.

Four of those projects earned this year's Awards of Excellence.

In Grade 3, the Award of Excellence went to Trace Morgan and Braylee Lesyk, who depicted the science behind their cheerfully bubbling Lava Lamps.

Two individual Grade 4 students received Awards of Excellence, Duane Rivera creating chalk out of eggshells by two methods, one using natural ingredients and one using commercial ingredients, while Robyn Urquhart channeled her inner Dr. Seuss to create the gooeey, entertaining monster glue known as Oobleck.

Grade 5 winner Aaron Cayan focused his experiment on electricity, happily demonstrating the power of his handmade electromagnets for those who stopped by his display.

Kaylee Skolarchuk, Brooklyn Newby, Hailey Danyluk, Jacob Petruk, Kennedy Pierce and Hadley Smereka explained everything from how to make elephant toothpaste and the science of bath bombs to floating pop cans, how to create lighting and the life of yellow perch with their very interesting Grade 3 entries. In the Grade 4 division, Ava Hillebrand had a colourful and fact-filled display on tigers, while Anna and Charlotte Henderson showed the effects of temperature on air. Grade 5 students and minor hockey players Ella Ballas and Spencer Malachowski explained ways to protect the brain from injury, Sunshine Giant exhibited the importance of clean water to humans and Cheyenne Newby created her own version of weird and wonderful Oobleck.

The outstanding array of artwork from students all the way from Kindergarten to Grade 6, including some detailed dioramas and a selection of artwork done at home was a definite crowd pleaser, with many young parents also stopping to check out a display listing every entrant in the school's science fairs from 1997 to 2017, although vice principal Leanne Vinge remembers competing in the fairs when she was an EPE student prior to those years.

The Book Fair is always an important part of the evening, and drew its usual packed crowd to pick out some new titles, along with posters, science and craft kits and other treasures.

New executive takes charge of chamber's future

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

There were new faces at the table as newly elected Elk Point Chamber of Commerce president Terri Hampson called last week's meeting to order and set out a proposed series of rules for chamber meetings.

'The OFEEDS Formula' has the goals of meetings being orderly, focused, efficient, equal in opportunity to be heard and indecision making, decorous and in a safe meeting environment that fosters positive member relationships, and was agreed to by the members present.

Each of the committees established at the Feb. 7 annual meeting had a report for the membership, Tourism with no word yet received on grant funding, Membership planning a blitz of non-member businesses and a mail-out to past members who have not yet sent in their renewals, and also planning to honour one or two members each month by giving them a few minutes in the spotlight at the meeting.

The Promotions committee outlined an upcoming event in St. Paul on March 21, when Toastmasters is offering the public an opportunity to learn and hone public speaking and leadership skills.

The Fundraising committee has started planning a Spring Fling dance with local entertainment, to be held in May, with proceeds going to help pay down the EcoCentre loan. The committee will be looking for volunteers once the venue has been chosen.

Members received a comprehensive financial report from treasurer Christine Fenton, who also found two willing volunteers to do the 2017 year-end audit.

The president reported on the safety inspection of the EcoCentre on Feb. 13, which determined that the stairs are up to code, although an emergency light in the stair well would be a good addition. Fire extinguishers are to be serviced and the safety plan is to be posted. It was noted that the elevator is not working, and was moved and disabled during the downstairs reclamation. Ken Gwozdz will look into this matter.

The Chambers Insurance Plan representative is available to make a presentation, and it was suggested that this be done at a business mixer, with a date and location to be determined in the near future.

Another upcoming event in St. Paul, WOW, (Wisdom Opportunities for Women) where women network in a social environment, was brought forward as an idea for a future event, Jena Colbourne having attended a previous WOW event and noting it was "a great opportunity to learn. It promotes working together." She and new member Penny Fox of Community Futures will investigate having a similar event here.

Jace 'the Stafford Streak' #11

A no frills but great skills, solid competitive D Man who is strong on his skates and on the puck, this unsung hero holds the blue line, read's the play well, gives a total 100 % effort game in, and game out , has a rocket of a shot from the point.

Jaden 'Jet Stream' VanMaarion #7

Tough, scrappy, hard nosed right winger, who is impossible to contain with his sound breaking speed, this offensively skilled player has a wicked quick release, he fires a cannon of shot,

Evan 'Batman' Ockerman #5

Great work ethic, a quiet solid, tall, lanky two- way defenseman who likes to carry the puck, is quick to join the party up front, but never get caught and always gets back in his own end long before the attack.

'Lightning Liam' Ludlage #15

The team captain with eyes in the back of his head, he instinctively knows where everyone is on the ice, small but elusive, brilliant playmaker, is the ultimate set up man, an extremely talented skater with outstanding skills and unbelievable endurance.

'King Cole' Bendixen #8

A defensive work horse who logs tons of ice time and hardly breaks a sweat when pulling heavy loads killing penalties, a smooth skater with excellent puck skills, loves to throw his body around, this star-studded performer is very dangerous on the power play.

Charlie 'Chuckles' Rogal #6

A naturally gifted player who seems to float on air, he effortlessly moves on the ice with the puck, a D Man who can play any position, cool and confident he can control the game from the back end.

Matthew 'Quick Draw' Quinney #14

A diligent center man who's rough and ready to battle, doesn't mind mixing it up or getting his hands dirty and won't shy away from anyone

Dallas 'Cowboy' Bristow #16

His gun is always loaded and ready for bear, when the rifle man gets on his horse he heads down the stretch flat out, a productive sharp shooter, this left winger with the right hand shot rarely misses his target.

'Danny Boy' Cardinal #19

Tough and fearless, his big locomotive has great size and strength, hard hitting, nasty body checker and corner man, impossible to move when he parks this train at the station. Fair warning.... do not provoke this gentle giant!

Odin 'the Wall' Smith #21

Huge solid bodyguard who stands up for his team mates, good skater with great speed for such a big man, has a wicked low shot that sneaks in under the radar sending his cruise missile directly into the target.

Dean 'the Machine' Ockerman-Affiliate

Peewee aged player with great size, this defenseman likes to muck it up and doesn't mind getting his nose dirty and plays a rambunctious style.

'Mic Jager' Fontaine - Affiliate

A very talented blue stock peewee aged prospect, he possesses great speed and outstanding agility when he carries the puck, has a nose for the net, one of the top scorers in the peewee league, he has a terrific slap shot already that he constantly works on to perfect.

Welcome to 'The Big Show' as Elk Point Avalanche hosts Bantam 'D' Provincials

The holiday is over. The big show starts this Thursday at noon. The Bantam D Provincial finals, held right here in Elk Point. Eight teams are coming, seven from across the province plus your host, the Elk Point Avalanche.

Review Sports

The bantams are legit contenders for sure, they finished first, winning the provincial Zone 2 banner over Redwater. In league play, they made it past the first round of playoffs in two games, then this past week, they played their final two games in the North East League against Bonnyville, losing the first one in overtime and the second one by a couple of goals, taking second place in the Tier One of the league. Injuries have plagued this team from the start of the season. They were down to only seven bantam skaters and one peewee player in their final game, but the nothing can break them. This team has a huge heart and soul and talent galore.

The coaches have done a wonderful job this year of teaching them to never give up -- even when it looked like there was no light at the end of the tunnel, they would always find a way to come through in the end. Head coach Marty Bendixen, his assistants Tyson Stafford and Greg Van Maarion have all played in some very important games and provincial tournaments and know what it takes to win. And let's not forget about the manager behind the scenes, Melissa Rogal, whose work never ends. After the games or practices when everyone goes home to rest, she's re-scheduling games, referees, concession and clock workers, etc. You can read all about them in this week's special edition player profiles.

Let's go Avalanche !!

The Midget Avalanche have been rolling along too. They will be going to Rimbey in two weeks to play in the Midget C provincial final after winning the Zone 2 banner a few weeks ago. They are still competing in the league playoffs, winning last Thursday night up in Cold Lake in close series over a team that had given them trouble all season. The best of three, Thursday night the series tied at one game apiece, they had to come back from a one-goal deficit in the first period. Austin 'Astro' Axley tied the game early in the second, assisted by Wolke 'Wolfman' Cueva. Then Nick 'Sparky' Anderson was lighting the lamp for his first of two to take the lead. Really tight checking and a great goaltending at both ends of the rink, the Avalanche would finally score another five minutes into the third by Hayden 'Hot Wheels' Ludlage, assisted by the 'Big O' Brody Odgaard, then add two empty netters late in the third by team captain 'Awesome Alex' Hunter and 'Sparky' to put the final nail in the Cold Lake coffin 5 to 2, the final sending them to the finals against Vermilion, the first game played here on Sunday night.

Talk about come back kids. Sunday night the boys were down 5 to 2 after the first 20 minutes and almost pulled this one out of the bag coming back to tie it up 6-all in the third period, but the Tigers would score with only 34 seconds on the clock to make it 7 to 6 and take the first game of the three-game series. 'Astro' leading the charge with two goals and two assists, team captain 'Awesome Alex' with two goals, his second tying the game half way through the third period, he also had one assist. 'Sparky' with two goals. Rugged D-man 'Warrior Warren' Ference with two helpers, 'the Big O', 'Hot Wheels' and Chad 'Pickpocket' Poitras with one assist each. The second game and third game, if necessary, will be in Vermilion. Date and time are still to be determined.

The Peewee Avalanche Tier 1 team didn't make it into playoffs this year, but did win the Zone 2 banner and will be going to the Peewee B provincial final in Le Crete the same weekend as the midgets go to Rimbey. Still trying to keep the team skating, the team managers Sandi Capjack and Melissa Rogal lined up two games this past weekend, one against Chauvin on Saturday. Chauvin had won the Zone 7 for Peewee D and are going to the provincial D finals, but were no competition for our team who walked all over them 18 to 0. It would seem to me they must come from a much weaker zone, unless they have a secret weapon that wasn't at that game and was left at home! You wouldn't think there could be that much difference between B and D, maybe a goal or two? Especially in our Zone 2. I've seen a lot of D provincial-bound teams over the years that could compete with some AA teams. On Sunday at home against Vermilion it was a much closer game. In fact there was no score until the middle of the game when the Avalanche finally broke the seal, the Avalanche winning this one in the end 6 to 1. 'Mick Jager' Fontaine with a hat trick and three assists, Cash 'Paycheque' Capjack with a goal and three assists, 'King Kong Konnor' Poitras and 'Kid Kade' Fontaine with one goal each. Defenseman Nick 'the Saint' Penner also with a helper. The three amigos, Rylee 'the Rocket' Warawa, Ryan 'Ram Rod' Cameron and Vaughn 'the Vulture' Ockerman are not on the score sheet with any points, but they all played terrific in this game and every one of them I have watched all year and they have all make a difference for sure on this team.

And now for the K. A. Campbell quote of the week "The most rewarding things you do in life are often the ones that look like they cannot be done." - Arnold Palmer

RECREATION CORNER

Jump on the Canada Day bandwagon!

The Canada Day committee is looking for some new members. On March 19th at 6:00 p.m., at Town Council Chambers, we are hosting an open meeting for anyone to come and check out what the Canada Day committee is all about and how you can help plan the 2018 celebrations. No commitment necessary, please come out and share your ideas. And if you happen to enjoy your time at the meeting and would like to join, the commitment is minimal.

One meeting per month and an average of two hours on the day of Canada Day. It's a great way to meet new people, get involved in the community and have a hand in the town's biggest event of the year.

We're also open to ideas. If there's something you would like to see at the festivities or something you think should be retired, let us know. We want this event to be about you and what you want! So let us know!

We are in definite need of volunteers and non-profit groups to help with the day. We are planning a beerfest and asking any sporting groups and non-profits who want to make some money for their club to contact us.

Spring is definitely on the horizon! Now that the weather is getting better I thought I'd bring up the newest sports group to hit the town, Nordic Pole Walking. There's an group of people in town that enjoy Nordic pole walking together. Last spring there was an info session and the group really took off. Now we're wondering if there's a desire for another info session. Contact me at recreation@elkpoint.ca to learn more.

We are also planning a geocaching information session. If you've always been interested in geocaching and what it's all about, this is for you. The session will be held in mid-April, with more details to come. Basically, geocaching is the world's largest treasure hunt. Can you believe there are hidden items (caches) all throughout our area?! You use GPS coordinates on your phone or with a GPS device to find them. It's really a fun activity that gets you exploring our region. Stay tuned for more information!

WAY BACK WHEN...

New wells, new way, good news

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF MARCH 12 IN...

1988

Westmin Resources announced plans to drill another 30 heavy oil wells in 1988 and up to 105 more during the coming five years. Heavy Oil vice president Wayne Watmough announced at the Elk Point Surface Rights Association annual meeting. Elk Point Chamber of Commerce agreed to take over organization and preparation of the July 1 pancake breakfast, which had previously been done by a small group of merchants.

1993

Elk Point chamber of commerce executive took a new approach, letting their fingers do the walking in their 1993 membership drive, soliciting memberships by fax for the first time. Tanya Stone and Christine Seniuk were off to Ottawa as part of the Encounters With Canada program for high school students.

1998

Fire claimed a 25,000 square foot barn and 2,600 hogs at the farm of Glenn and Verona Lea Flanders, with firemen able to save a smaller barn containing 300 feeder hogs. Officials of Pan Canadian Petroleum assured Mayor Ed Buck that the company planned to remain active in the area, despite moving their field office out of town.

2003

The appointment of Lakeland Regional Health Authority board chair Ernie Isley and board members John Pilipchuk and Allan Buck to the board of the new Health Region No. 7 was good news to the chamber of commerce. Elk Point figure skater Daylan Hoffman and her pairs partner brought back Novice Pairs bronze from the Canada Winter Games in New Brunswick.

2008

A resounding victory swept Ray Danyluk and his fellow Progressive Conservatives to a 72-seat victory in the March 3 election, with Danyluk earning 6,526 votes to give him a third term in the legislature. Elk Point Skating Club delighted the audience with their World of Disney presentation, with former club member Helen Ramful and her pairs partner as special guest skaters.

2013

Elk Point Elementary School proudly displayed a total of 23 interesting and informative projects exhibited by individuals and partnerships from Grades 3 to 6 at the annual Science Fair, with 15 of these projects receiving Awards of Excellence designation. Elk Point Chamber of Commerce determined that while the Canada Day pancake breakfast yielded a profit and Christmas Extravaganza paid its way, the street fair, held with the Elk Point Auto Club Show and Shine, cost almost $2,000 more than it brought in.

New leadership for Elks Lodge

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point BPO Elks Lodge No. 460 has a new leadership team in place after a new executive was installed at their March 6 meeting.

Alberta Elks Association 2nd Vice President Darren Scott was on hand to officiate as installing officer for the occasion, and was assisted by local members Albert Boratynec and Lawrence Pidluzny.

Scott brought greetings from Grand Exalted Ruler Deborah Sallenback and Alberta president Ron Townrow, and told the lodge that although the Alberta Elks have funding programs in place for worthy projects, they have not received any applications and would encourage lodges to spearhead projects in their communities.

To keep the lodge thriving, Scott urged the executive to “talk to the members, keep talking to prospective members, and keep busy,” as well as keeping the provincial association in the loop by making sure that meeting dates and times are correct, for the convenience of visitors from the association who would like to attend upcoming meetings and events.

The recent destruction by fire of the Leslieville Elks Hall has brought forward a challenge from the Delburne Elks to make a donation to the Leslieville Elks to assist them in replacing their meeting place, Scott said.

He also reminded the lodge of the upcoming national convention in Regina from July 18 to 20, and said, “the more we can send the better.” The provincial meeting is June 6 to 9 in Fort Saskatchewan.

Unfortunately, two members of the new executive were unable to attend due to previous commitments, with new Exalted Ruler Geoff Hoyle and new Leading Knight Lorne Young to be installed at the next meeting.

Don Pilisko was installed as both Immediate Past Exalted Ruler and secretary-treasurer, Stephen Rolheiser as Loyal Knight, Mike Chubey as Lecturing Knight and Fred Zapesocki as Membership Chairman and Inner Guard.

Oil Barons host Pond Hockey Festival

JANICE HUSER
Review Contributor

The Elk Point Oil Barons pond hockey squad hosted a six-team festival on Saturday at the AG Ross Arena, with teams from St. Paul, Mallaig, Vermilion, Wainwright, and Two Hills taking to the ice. The first game of the festival saw neighbouring teams Elk Point and St. Paul hit the ice bright and early at 8 a.m. The game was a back and forth battle, with some players netting hat tricks in what would eventually end as a 15-15 draw.

“This year’s Elk Point Pond Hockey Festival was another huge success. This is Elk Point’s fifth year involved with the Alberta Pond Hockey League, and we have seen such an improvement in all the kids this year,” says Connie Henderson, the pond hockey president in Elk Point. Henderson notes that there has been an increase in other communities joining the pond hockey league, “which has been wonderful to see.”

“I think pond hockey is so important for all communities,” says Henderson. She explains that pond hockey gives kids who want to play hockey and be part of a team the chance to play, without the same financial and time commitment of league hockey.

“We look forward to next year and want to thank all the people in the community for their continued support, because without them we wouldn’t be able to do this for the kids.”

The festival saw teams play two 30-minute periods, as opposed to the traditional three 20-minute periods played in regular league hockey. Each team played two games, with the ultimate goal being simple, to simply have fun.

ELK POINT OIL BARONS and St. Paul Canadiens battle it out in the first game of Saturday’s Pond Hockey Festival.

F. G. MILLER JUNIOR BOYS (above) won silver at SPAA, while the Senior Boys (below) placed fifth overall at zones with an 86-51 final win over Vegreville Composite High School.

SPAA CHAMPIONS - F. G. Miller Senior Girls not only won the SPAA banner, they went on to win bronze at Zones.

Gibson, swept up the opposition to win the Doug and Doreen Berg Memorial Trophy, presented by the late couple's son Lorn for the first time in many years. The four also received first aid kits donated by CNRL.

Four ladies who entered the 'spiel "just for fun", wearing kilts and tam o'shanter, won the eight-team B Event, with Joanne Warawa, Lisa Warawa, Jackie Penz and Tara Cameron accepting the Elk Point Curling Club trophy and accolades as the Best Dressed Rink.

Roger deMoissac won the funspiel's Draw to the Button honours.

The League Championship trophy for the 2017-18 season was also presented, with Tyler and Joanne Warawa, Dean Rogal and Jackie Penz accepting the Knotty Boyz trophy from curling club president Curtis Porcina.
